BAD USAGE OF A WIFE

Japanese Man Charged With Outrageous Brutality.

Tsune Nakamura has brought a bill for maintenance against her husband, Kojima Nakamura, and Judge Gear has made an order to the respondent to show cause why he should not pay alimony and an attorney's fee to the complainant.

It is a pitiful story of bad usage the wife tells. She was married to Kojima only on February 23 of this year, the same day that she arrived in Honolulu from Japan. The couple went to Kona, Hawaii, to live and returned to Honolulu about the first of August. Since August 14 they have lived separate and apart. Petitioner declares that ever since their marriage she "has demeaned herself toward respondent as a loving and dutiful wife," but he has treated her "in an extreme cruel and inhuman manner," of which she gives instances.

In Kona on July 1 she says "respondent did, in a cruel and inhuman fashion, tie the hands of petitioner behind her back and did refuse to release her from the bonds confining her during the whole of said night, thereby causing petitioner great physical suffering; that while petitioner was so tied and in a helpless condition respondent did beat and strike her with his fists, and did threaten to kill petitioner."

On July 7 she says respondent beat her with a stick, bruising and discolored her body. She left him on August 14 and went to live with relatives in Honolulu, and this is what she declares happened on the 19th: "Respondent, without provocation or excuse, because enraged and infuriated at this petitioner, and did strike and beat her with his fists, and did again threaten to kill petitioner unless she returned to live with him." After that she may be believed in saying that she was and is now in great bodily fear of respondent and does not think it safe to remain or live with him.

Kojima Nakamura is represented by his complaining wife as being the owner of a coffee plantation worth $2000 in Kona and having $500 of uninvested cash. Therefore she considers he ought to pay the costs of her suit, together with a reasonable attorney's fee, and $40 a month for her maintenance. E. M. Watson is her attorney.

New Mail Docks.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company has applied to the Harbor Commission of San Francisco for six new wharves, each 800 feet in length by 125 feet in width. One of them is to be a two-story affair, the second story to stand a strain of 125 pounds to the square inch, and the others ordinary single-deck wharves, all built after the most approved modern pattern. The company desires the Commission to receive separate bids for the wharves, and to submit plans and specifications to the company before any contract is awarded. It is probable that the Pacific Mail's request will meet with the approval of the Commission. These wharves will do much to relieve the congestion of traffic that has existed since the line's big new boats.

San Francisco—Per Alameda, Sept. 2.

Sydney—Per Sonoma, Sept. 13.
